YANKS LEAP RIVER LINE AT COLOGNE

VICTORY AT HAND!

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press War Editor

The greatest Western Front victory since Normandy appeared in prospect today as four armies surged ahead in flaming engagements, with the Germans reported surrendering at the rate of from 5000 to 10,000 a day.

Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's Ninth Army poured toward the Rhine and a juncture with the Canadian offensive to the north, a thrust which could trap thousands of the enemy's best troops. Its movements were cloaked in a break-through news blackout which could hide momentous events, and the only resistance mentioned officially was described as "negligible to moderate."

The rapid, fluid battle on the Cologne plain was described in field dispatches as the nearest approach to a rout since the Normandy pursuit. The First Army has seized intact a bridge across the Erft river, in a swift move which a front report said caught the Germans off guard. Here the First was only eight miles from rubble Cologne and the Rhine.

Yanks Push On In Ruhr Rout

By JAMES M. LONG

PARIS, Feb. 28 (AP)—First Army infantry captured a bridge intact across the Erft river during the night and moved swiftly today toward Cologne, eight miles away and now devoid of its last natural defense line. Just to the north, German resistance collapsed into a near rout at the edge of the Ruhr as the floodtide of the American Ninth Army poured toward the Rhine and a junction with the Canadians which might trap thousands of the enemy's finest troops.

Nazi Food Ration Cut Again

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—German food rations were cut again today because of the "necessity for feeding refugees from the occupied areas of the east," DNB announced in a radio dispatch.

A week ago a 12½ per cent reduction was announced.

In addition to making rations for an eight-week period cover nine weeks, the government ordered a reduction in bread, meat, cheese and fat allocations.

Farmers were ordered to surrender one-fourth of the potatoes they normally had been allowed to keep for themselves.

Reds Reported Sighting Baltic

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Berlin today announced evacuation of Neustettin, strategic Pomeranian communications center by-passed by the Russians in their push toward the Baltic.

Neustettin is 90 miles east of Stettin and 40 miles from the Baltic.

Moscow dispatches, however, said the Russians had forged even closer to the Baltic in the area northeast of Neustettin and were only about 20 miles from Koelsin, on the last railway escape route linking Danzig with Stettin.

A Reuters dispatch from Moscow said the Russian spearheads had reached the Danzig-Stettin coastal road and were "in sight of the Baltic."

Associated Press dispatches from Moscow, however, said Marshal Rokossovsky's Second White Russian Army had been slowed in its push toward the Baltic by mud and fierce counterattacks designed to prevent closing the trap on thousands of Germans in eastern Pomerania and the rest of the old Polish corridor.

The German high command announced Zhukov's First White Russian Army had expanded its Oder river bridgehead south of Kuestrin, 39 miles east of Berlin.

Rokossovsky's armored vanguard was fighting fiercely in the low hills dotted with small lakes in northeastern Pomerania along four secondary lines to the major coastal railway.

His guns were almost within range of Koelsin, Moscow said. But slushy, wooded terrain forced him to stick closely to the roads where the Germans received desperately needed reinforcements.

Reichs Lashed 16th Straight Day

LONDON, Feb. 28 (INS)—The record Allied aerial blasting of Nazi Germany thundered into its 16th successive day today when vast fleets of American bombers struck gigantic blows at weakened communication depots.

While the first official announcement said merely that Eighth U. S. Air Force bombers again were over the Reich, German broadcasts hinted cities serving as traffic depots behind the western front were among primary objectives.

25,718 Ruhr Nazis Captured

By the Associated Press
Allied armies on the Western Front have captured about 25,718 prisoners in the current offensive which started six days ago and 929,711 since D-Day, June 6.

Germans by the hundreds were reported streaming back to prison cages on the First and Ninth army fronts in the Rhineland today, and 88,070 have surrendered during February alone.

(The British radio said German troops were pulling out of Muenchen Gladbach, a city of 127,000.)

A Ninth Army dispatch which the censor passed just before the blackout, said "Muenchen Gladmach was bypassed yesterday by the rampaging Ninth Army, which captured 10 more towns," in that general area.

(The German radio asserted that the Ninth Army had reached to within two miles of Rheidt, a satellite city of Muenchen Gladbach, 12 miles from Dusseldorf.)

(The Germans also said the Americans "succeeded in reaching the Erft river, where German positions are very strong.")

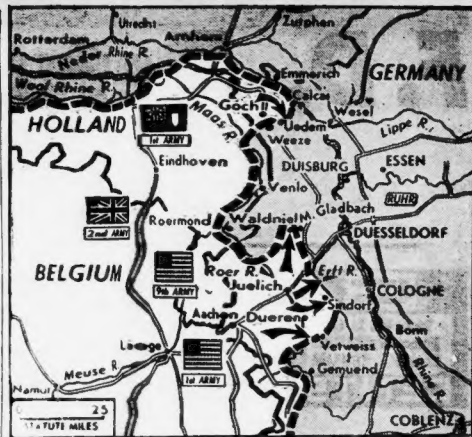

(Rheyt, a city of 80,000 and the textile center of Muenchen Gladbach, both packed with bombed-out refugees from Dusseldorf, form one metropolitan center of about 300,000 Germans.)

A dispatch from Marshal Montgomery's headquarters said the whole front in the Rhineland sprang forward. At last reports, the Ninth and Canadian armies were less than 30 miles apart. A swift junction might trap the 10 divisions opposing the Canadian army and those strung along the Maas (Meuse) around the Dutch towns of Roermond and Venlo.

In the center, Lt. Gen. Patton's Third Army moved up to three and a half miles on a 50-mile front toward the middle Rhine. His Tenth Armored Division, six miles east of the Saar, swung abruptly north toward outflanked Trier in what appeared to be encircling maneuver against that ancient city, one of the strongest fortresses in west Europe.

The speed of the First Army's war of movement in the outer defenses of Cologne was attested WESTERN FRONT—American First Army troops driving on Cologne were fighting on the eastern bank of the Erft river today after gaining crossings at unspecified points. Other Yanks were driving beyond Waldniel, east of Muenchen Gladbach. Canadian First Army forces pushed southward from Udem.

Two Marines Edge Ahead Under Hard Jap Pounding

By LEIF ERICKSON

GUAM, Feb. 28 (AP)—Marines along a line bisecting Two kept terrific pressure today on the Japanese in a supreme effort to crack a foe known to be short of water and believed to be hoarding ammunition.

After noticeably slackening artillery and mortar fire, the Japanese loosed a heavy barrage at leathernets straightening out their line with slight advances north, up high ground blanketed by pillboxes and blockhouses.

The Marine line, marred by three divisions, cuts across the island's center at the north end of the airfield where the Japanese still hold a fingertip's grasp.

As the fight for the island entered its 10th day, Japanese dug in on the higher northern half still showed power to resist, although they have been shelled incessantly from the sea, bombed from the air and pounded by artillery.

Maj. Gen. Erskine's Third Division, which has counted 800 enemy pillboxes in its zone of action, inched northward and westward from the virtually captured fighter base.

On the right flank, Maj. Gen. Cates' Fourth Division which has captured the vital artillery observation position of Hill 382, straightened its line around that promontory.

There was no mention in Adm. Nimitz' communique this morning of any gains on the left flank by Maj. Gen. Rockey's Fifth Marine Division, last reported assaulting Hill 362, 700 yards east of the Hirawa Bay coastline.

Marine artillery, warship guns, land-based and carrier-based planes covered Tuesday's slow drive. An observer reported watching Big Liberators from the Marianas score direct hits with 500-pound bombs on pillboxes and a building which looked like a concrete communications' center.

U. S. Fifth Army Gains in Italy

ROME, Feb. 28 (INS)—U. S. Fifth Army forces fought stiff patrol actions on the Italian front, Allied headquarters disclosed today, and moved up Highway 64 where they seized Senegaglia without enemy opposition.

German patrols made their bids at Casaglia and Vergato, but were driven off.

German forces facing American lines in the Monte Della and Toraccia areas were quiet after determined counterattacks failed. British Eighth Army forces again thwarted a German attempt to cross the Seno river.

Shuttle Bombers Blast Germany

LONDON, Feb. 28 (INS)—The German radio reported today that the Allied sky onslaught to cripple Nazi communications had been carried into the 15th consecutive day.

German air alerts reported Allied warplanes over the Dusseldorf, Rhine and Muenster areas. (Two-way raids apparently were in progress. The German radio, according to the FCC, said a bomber formation, apparently from the Mediterranean area, was again approaching the Tyrol.)

Foil Philippine Banzai Charge

By FRED HAMPSON

MANILA, Feb. 28 (AP)—Screaming Japanese, attacking behind the heaviest artillery barrage in the growing battle for the Marikina watershed east of Manila, launched a large-scale banzai charge against the American Sixth Infantry today and were beaten off with heavy losses.

The banzai attack occurred near Montalban, 12 miles north-east of Manila and close to the northern end of elaborately prepared enemy defenses.

The Sixth and the First (dismounted) Cavalry divisions found the Japs entrenched in a series of caves and inter-connected pillboxes along a knife-edge ridge of the Sierra Madres, reaching 13 miles from the foothills of Mt.

Oro to Antipolo.

Grim American infantrymen spraying liquid fire cleaned out Japs in Manila's legislative building, but suicide squads continued to hold out in the finance and agriculture buildings.

Thirty-seventh Division troops occupied the legislative structure this morning after a night artillery barrage broke up a concentration of Jap machineguns on the second floor. Flame-throwers, drums of gasoline and thermite grenades finished the job.

In the remaining enemy-held buildings, some Japs committed suicide and others were killed by their officers as they tried to escape.

Gen. MacArthur announced, meanwhile, complete destruction of the enemy on Verde Island, between Luzon and Mindoro, and the virtual end of the Corregidor garrison.

Girl, 15, 2 Boys Held in Theft

A 15-year-old girl and two 15-year-old boys, all of Roxbury, were arrested today by Lt. Francis W. Russell and Policewoman Dorothy Coleman in connection with thefts from business offices.

According to police, while the boy engaged a storekeeper in conversation, the girl excused herself to go to the rest room. Then she ransacked pocketbooks and coats.

The youths are accused of thefts of $500 from a cleansing shop at Center st., Jamaica Plain; $25 from a shoe store Washington st., downtown; $79 from a store near St. Mark's Church, Dorchester, and $40 from a Quincy bakery.

March to Blow In Snow, Rain

Freezing rain, turning Boston's winter-ravished streets into hazardous ribbons of ice, will be March's initial contribution to the city's weather woes after the snowiest February in 11 years.

The weather bureau predicted light snow would begin falling after sundown and turn to rain during the night. The temperature will be about 28 tonight with easterly winds.

February snowfall totaled 26.2 inches, 14 of it coming in one bundle during the blizzard of Feb. 8-9. Even February of 1940, year of the memorable St. Valentine's Day blizzard, left only an accumulation of 23.8 inches. In 1934, however, the February snowfall totaled 32.9 inches.

Fewer 'Dunks' Since Curfew

Boston police have found fewer "dunks" to cope with since the amusement blackout became effective.

Prior to the curfew Monday, 70 to 80 persons had been arrested for drunkenness during a daily 24-hour period.

At 8 a. m. Tuesday only 41 persons had been arrested on that charge in 24 hours, and at the same time today the total was 29.

New Bedford Labor Draft Gains Attention of Nation

By JAMES J. DELANEY

NEW BEDFORD, Feb. 28—The War Manpower Commission's continued failure to enforce a draft of labor without a compulsory national service law today began assuming the aspects and importance of another Montgomery Ward incident as attention of the nation was focused on five latest developments in the test case here. These were:

1—Only one of 24 textile workers, whose appeals from the work draft are being heard by a special WMC panel, agreeing to a shift to one of two tire fabric plants to relieve a production emergency. Appeals of others come before the panel today in its efforts to obtain 118 workers.

2—Threat of strikes at the two plants—the Firestone and Fisk tire fabric mills—by an AFL union on the ground the firms had refused to sign agreements renewing contracts. Federal Conciliator Anna Weinstock is conferring with plant officials on this aspect of the difficulty.

3—Communist activities among the workers, spearheaded by Anne Burlak, head of the New England Communist Political Assn and "Red Flame" of previous textile difficulties here throughout New England.

4—War Labor Board announcement of approval of a 7-cent per hour bonus for third-shift workers at the Fisk plant in an effort to settle the impasse. No case involving a similar increase at Firestone's plant is before the WLB.

5—Charges by government officials that both workers and management were "stalling" until next Monday when a test case of WMC's labor draft powers comes before Judge Charles E. Wyznanski, Jr., in federal court in Boston.

Resumption of the panel hearings today brought a brief flurry when labor leaders questioned the presence of Atty. Albert D. Misher, general WMC counsel, who is representing Commr. Paul V. McNutt at the hearing, among members of the panel.

Regional WMC Atty. Joseph Fisher stated he had been pressed into service temporarily in place of Jack Blume, who had been called to New York.

All workers appearing thus far before the board have been members of the Textile Workers' Union of America, CIO. Nine appeals from members of the United Textile Workers, AFL, employees of the Hosac Mills, were due for hearing later today.

They are being represented by S. P. Jason, business agent of the Teamsters' Union and president of the New Bedford Central Labor Union, who said he had asked the national WLB and the U. S. Department of Labor to sanction strike calls in the two tire fabric plants, under provisions of the Smith-Connally act.

Miss Weinstock conferred last night with management representatives but said they still had failed to agree on several points which were blocking approval of contract renewals at the plants.

Many of the textile workers drafted for work in the tire fabric plants have been reluctant to go there until the labor trouble has been settled.

They likewise have protested that the enforced shift would deprive them of seniority rights, vacation pay, credit allowance, opportunities for promotion and for return to their jobs, and conditions guaranteeing them insurance benefits.

Those who already have appeared in many cases presented doctor's certificates claiming they were too old for the work at the tire plants, infirm or disabled.

While the appeal hearings were in progress, word came from Boston that Saul Wallen, chairman of the New England WLB, had announced a bonus of 7 cents an hour had been approved for the third shift at the Fisk tire plant. Wallen said no case was before his board involving a similar increase at Firestone.

F.D. Home, Maps Report

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—President Roosevelt returned today from the Big Three meeting, buoyant with hopes for an enduring peace and ready to report to Congress and the nation. Not everything agreed upon at the already historic Yalta meeting will be disclosed immediately.

Mr. Roosevelt made known that some secret understandings were reached and that they necessarily must remain secret for a while, although they probably will become apparent in time.

Whether these understandings were in the military or political sphere, or both, was not indicated.

The Chief Executive has high hopes for lasting peace and a world-wide reduction in armaments. In the weeks ahead, he has an active program of travel and engagements to further those hopes.

Back from a five-week, 14,000-mile journey to Russia by cruiser and plane, he planned:

A report in person to Congress and the country, tomorrow or Friday, on the meetings at which he, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin blueprint "final defeat" of a "doomed" Germany and planned strong machinery for perpetuating peace.

An appearance at a United Nations conference opening in San Francisco April 25. As official host, Mr. Roosevelt probably will welcome and address the delegates.

Another of his periodic meetings

F. D.'s Health OK

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Vice-Adm. Ross T. McIntire said today that President Roosevelt's health stood up well under the strain of the Crimea conference, although he spent long, strenuous hours on the job.

The Chief Executive still is thinner than he was a year or so ago, but his color seems much improved.

With Churchill, after the San Francisco parley has finished its work.

Mr. Roosevelt is prepared to inform Congress that, unlike the Tehran conference with Churchill and Stalin, the Yalta meeting did produce some secret understandings. He regards these as necessarily secret, although they probably will become apparent in time.

Mr. Roosevelt came ashore at an east coast port last night and reached Washington this morning by special train.

The return trip included a speedy run through the Straits of Gibraltar at a time when Nazi submarines were lurking nearby.

Before moving into a catch-up conference and chores that piled up during his absence, Mr. Roosevelt faced a sorrowful interlude—the burial at noon today in Arlington National Cemetery of Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, who died at sea February 29 of a cerebral hemorrhage. Watson accompanied the chief executive to Yalta as secretary and military aide.

The accounting to Congress and the nation on the second meeting of the Big Three will be broadcast from the well of the House chamber. It will be his first appearance at the Capitol in more than two years.

At a news conference aboard ship, as his cruiser zig-zagged toward American shores, Mr. Roosevelt disclosed to reporters for three major news services, who met him in Algiers and traveled home with him, that the original plan for occupation of Germany was for Russia to take over the eastern area, Britain

Find Two Dead in Sea, 2d Girl Hunted

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Feb. 28—In the rock-strewn surf near fashionable Malibu Beach where bodies of a man and woman were found floating half-drowned after their car crashed over a 20-foot embankment, police today were searching for another possible victim of the tragedy.

The dead girl was identified as Katherine Alsop, 24, of Mt. Pulaski, Ill., and her companion as John O'Malley, 42, an actor. Sheriff's Lt. W. A. Bennett said search was continuing for Miss Hayden Head, 20, of Los Angeles, also reported to have been in the car when it skidded off the Roosevelt highway.

He reported that Miss Alsop's body was clad only in slacks and hobby socks and that of the actor was also nude from the waist up. The girl's body was near the wreckage of the car, the man's about a half-mile away.

Officers learned Miss Alsop had been visiting her father, George Alsop, wealthy property owner, in Los Angeles.

O'Malley came to Hollywood last May from New York. Miss Alsop and Miss Head formerly were members of the WASPS, stationed at Sweetwater, Tex.

Nancy Hanks of Sweetwater, also a former WASP, told the officer that she and the other women left for a mountain cabin in two cars after meeting O'Malley and another man Bennett identified as Henry Morgan, 29, actor, at a roadside stand.

The latter and Miss Hanks said they went ahead in one car but the others never arrived, the officer reported.

Lyman Denies Doyle Charges

Former State Commr. of Corrections Arthur T. Lyman today branded as "deliberate falsehoods," charges made by his newly-appointed successor, Commr. J. Paul Doyle, that "savage, frightful and shameful" conditions existed at Charlestown State Prison and the Sherborn Women's Reformatory at Framingham.

BOY FRIEND RESCUED IN FRANCE—Shirley Halstad, lovely member of the Ice Follies, is jubilant today after receiving advices that her fiance, Lt. James Murphy, had been rescued by advancing Allied troops on the Western Front. He had been captured during the Nazi breakthrough last winter.

Hub Seeks More Salvaged Paper

Boston's five-day waste paper salvage drive centered today in Wards 11 and 12 of Roxbury and Wards 13 and 14 of Dorchester, as officials strove to meet Army and Navy needs for the vital material.

Collections in the first 10 wards of the city have produced 376,735 pounds of paper as against 432,435 pounds collected in the same wards last month.

Collections will be made tomorrow in Wards 15, 16 and 17 of Dorchester and Ward 18, Hyde Park and parts of Roslindale and Mattapan.

Winners of the $25 war bonds offered for paper donors in the first five wards of the city were: Michael J. Mullane of Meridian st., East Boston; Mrs. E. Martine of Trenton st., Charlestown; Howard N. Grubbs of McLean st., West End; Mrs. Martha B. Sumpter of Hemenway st., Back Bay; and Mary S. Purcell of Melrose st., South End.

WINS COMBAT BAR—Officer Candidate Ralph Sullivan of Belmont st., Watertown, who has been awarded the Combat Bar at the U. S. Maritime Service Officer's School, New London, Ct., confirming active service with the merchant service. His ship was attacked by enemy aircraft in the Mediterranean.

"There was never any trouble at Charlestown up to the time I left, and I would welcome an investigation into the conditions there," Lyman declared in a categorical denial of Doyle's charges.

"I admit the institution is antiquated but the inmates are better fed there than in any other institution. I wish the rations my boy overseas is eating were as good as the prison inmates get."

He said there were "poor cooking facilities" at the Charlestown institution but denied the men were eating from "swill buckets" as Doyle claimed.

Asked if he knew Doyle is a cousin of Governor Tobin, Lyman smiled and said:

"I am well aware of that fact."

Rep. Joseph A. Milano, Republican, of Melrose, called for an immediate investigation of conditions in all state penal institutions.

Milano said he did not believe Doyle's charges but said the way to prove them "false" was by a probe.

Lyman declared neither Warden Francis W. L. Langgan of state prison nor Dr. Miriam Van Waters, Sherborn superintendent, "would permit the conditions described by Doyle to exist."

Asked if he thought his 1939 report to then Mayor Tobin on conditions at Deer Island had any bearing on Doyle's attack, Lyman said:

"I'll deal with that later."

Doyle was master of Deer Island at the time of Lyman's report.

"The charge that 'dirty food' is served is absolutely untrue," Lyman declared. "The morale of prisoners is high and their work has been excellent."

In a blast aimed at the Lyman regime, Doyle claimed that while he was paying a surprise visit to State Prison Tuesday, inmates staged a wild riot in protest against "bad food and savage practices."

"I found men being treated like animals under the most frightful and filthy conditions," Doyle charged. "They were getting what can hardly be described as food from swill buckets and garbage pails not fit for dogs."

Doyle also described a chamber at the prison, known as the "Blue Room," where prisoners who needed "special treatment" were placed. He described the room as a "small, dark, dirty and damp dungeon, fadded so that the inmate could yell his head off and knock his brains out without being seen or heard."

Doyle alleged that conditions at the Sherborn reformatory were "just as bad" as at Charlestown prison, with women inmates "packed in like cats and fed from containers with food not fit for animals."

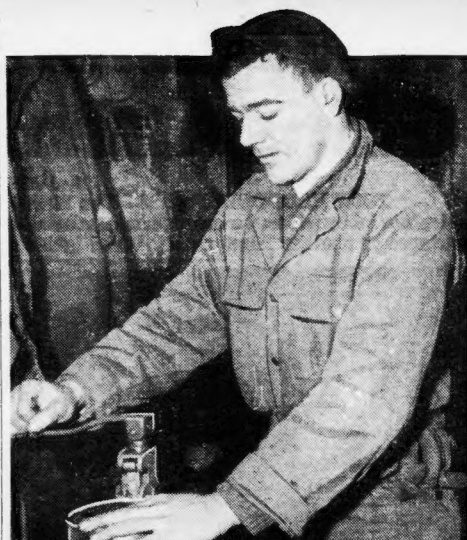

"If such a situation as described by Doyle existed at State Prison, there would be riots there every day," Lyman said.

Doyle's charge that at Sherborn women inmates and their babies were "treated like cats," Lyman asserted that during his administration they were "beautifully taken care of." He said also that the health records of both institutions were very high.

'2d Palestine' Plan Proposed

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—A proposal for a "second Palestine" in Libya to provide refuge for hundreds of thousands of Jews was advanced in Commons today in the midst of Britain's most important foreign policy debate of the war.

The refuge suggestion came from Sir Lambert Ward, Conservative, as government leaders marshaled forces to gain an overwhelming endorsement for Prime Minister Churchill's policies at the Crimea conference when a showdown vote of confidence is talked tomorrow.

An indication of Churchill's determination to demonstrate clear-cut British unity came in a reliable report he would take the floor again tomorrow night to end debate.

Churchill's decision to speak a second time—a revision of previously-planned strategy—apparently was prompted by a Conservative notice it would lead a protest against the Big Three's treatment of the Polish problem. This group, which thus far has rallied only 24 supporters, will attempt to amend the confidence motion.

Best Beef Points Off; Up for Cheaper Cuts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Point values on choice beef cuts will be slightly lower beginning Sunday while the ration cost of cheaper beef will be hiked a little. The OPA has decided on this adjustment, it was learned, because in some areas, mainly producing centers, high-point cuts have not been moving, while low values on such cuts as flank and brisket have caused a scarcity of those items.

DODGE STRIKERS DEFIANT

DETROIT, Feb. 28 (AP)—Further interruptions in Chrysler Corp.'s war production schedule were expected today following another decision by striking Dodge main plant workers to continue indefinitely their defiance of back-to-work orders.

BUS KILLS POSTAL CLERK

Struck by an Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway bus in front of his home in Gallivan blvd., Dorchester, early today, Fred A. Murphy, a special clerk at the South Postal Annex, died two hours later at City Hospital.

80 'Hitler Tools' Fail to Fool Reds

MOSCOW, Feb. 28 (AP)—Eighty Nazis lined up recently at a registration center in occupied Brandenburg province in Germany and tried to persuade a skeptical Russian reporter they were helpless and unwilling tools of Hitler.

Writing in Red Star, the Red army's newspaper, Correspondent Vasily Grossman reported today:

"Some of these people have been members of the Nazi party 12 or 13 years yet they claimed they really hated the regime and were very glad to be rid of it."

"Our courts will reach a verdict without philosophical discussion and of their free will," he wrote. "The verdict will be on behalf of millions of children, women and old folk and unarmed prisoners of war whose ashes now inspire the hearts of our Red fighters."

"Many of the Germans are evacuees from the western provinces, including the Ruhr."

"German youths who have read nothing but Fascist literature and listened to Nazi speeches are the fanatical element still supporting Hitler."

"It is obvious we must eliminate these ideas with strenuous efforts during the occupation of Germany."

Air Stewardess Job Interviews Thursday

Girls interested in becoming airline stewardesses for American Airlines may be interviewed tomorrow at the Hotel Statler from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. by Marcelle R. Johnson, procurement supervisor of stewardesses, and Mabelle Lowrey, assistant to the superintendent of stewardesses of American Airlines.

Marcelle R. Johnson

Applicants must be 21 to 28 years of age, unmarried, must not weigh more than 125 pounds or exceed 5 feet 6 inches in height. They must have completed four years of college work or two years of college plus business experience.

2 Alarms for Fire In Somerville Store

Thick smoke filled Davis sq., Somerville, and tied up morning traffic as a two-alarm fire raged today in the Summerfield furniture store at Elm and Summer sts.

Fire officials ordered a second alarm as soon as apparatus arrived and smoke poured from the building.

Fight Baby Rent

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—A baby is just a baby and not "increased tenancy," the OPA said, in holding that a landlord cannot raise the rent because of any new arrival.

The OPA filed suit for triple damages in municipal court against a landlord who had raised the rent of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grabski from $32 to $33 a month on the grounds of increased tenancy after a baby was born.

Newsprint Probe To Start Monday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—Setting a record for speedy action by a congressional investigating group, the Boren Special House Newsprint Committee at its first meeting ordered hearings on newsprint allocations.

The hearings will open Monday, with WPB officials called to testify on grants of scarce paper to government agencies.

A breakdown will be requested, committee members said, on the amounts of paper asked by Federal agencies for use in publicizing themselves, and on large tonnage requested by them for shipment overseas where they will be used by foreign enterprises.

Starving Yank Prisoners Brutally Beaten Each Day

By CLARK LEE

MANILA, Feb. 28 (INS)—For American prisoners at the Nichols Field slave camp, the day started at 6:15 a. m.

Then a Japanese naval landing party sentry in a white uniform came into their barracks in Pasay schoolhouse—Pasay is a suburb of Manila—and shouted: "Bangoi!"

That meant get up from the floor, where each man slept in a space 36 inches wide.

Then the weakened and sick men did calisthenics for 15 minutes. After that they were forced to count off in Japanese.

Each American was required to answer the roll call in Japanese, and mispronunciation brought a clubbing blow to the face.

Breakfast was "fish eyes and guts," soup with the entire fish thrown into sloppy water, or a watery soup in which 15 gallons of crushed gourds (squash) had been mixed with 100 gallons of water, along with about an inch of boiled rice in a canteen cup.

At noon and at night they had the same thing.

The Americans were already starving when they were taken to Nichols to work, and with this diet they began to collapse. Almost everybody had dysentery and malaria and beriberi which swelled their limbs to twice the normal size and then caused running sores.

After breakfast came sick call. Only 50 men daily from an average of 600 were allowed a day off for sickness. Those too sick to walk had to be carried or dragged by their comrades when at 7:30 a. m. the daily torture march started to Nichols Field.

At first the Filipinos led the route and tried to give the Americans food and shoes, and even dropped cigarettes on the pavement for the prisoners to pick up. But the Japs broke it up by cold-bloodedly shooting several Filipinos.

En route to the field, Jap sentries, at their morose whim and completely without provocation, would suddenly attack the prisoners.

Rifle butts were smashed into the small of men's backs, and for months afterward the injured men suffered excruciatingly. Some sentries carried iron clubs with which they brutally broke arms and legs.

Those felled had to be picked up and aided along by their comrades. Otherwise they would have been beaten to death where they lay—and this happened many, many times.

A sentry called "Pistol Pete" broke the arms of at least five men with an iron bar, "Saki Sam," a Jap marine who was always drunk, used a similar weapon to beat unmercifully Americans who whistled.

The Americans dreaded the morning march as much as any part of the prison routine. It was inevitable that a certain number of those on the outside of the column would be beaten and perhaps killed.

So by common, unspoken consent, the stronger ones marched on the outside while on the inside weaker men helped along or carried those still weaker and unable to walk.

At Nichols Field, the Americans were marched to gravel pits.

Luxury Stamp

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 28 (AP)—A three-cent stamp cost St. Joseph County $15.

The county commissioners, before selling an old safe, called in a locksmith to make certain it contained nothing valuable.

The locksmith retrieved the stamp—and submitted his bill for $15.

Rescued Bridgewater Nurse Tells of Captors

DENVER, Feb. 28 (INS)—Before stepping into their big C-48 transport plane to resume their eastward journeys to their home towns, 11 Army nurses—rescued 23 days ago from the Santos Tomas internment camp at Manila—today said "everybody at home has the same two questions."

Those two questions, they explained, were:

1—"How does it feel to be back home?" (The answer is: "It's wonderful.")

2—"Did the Japs molest you?" (The answer is: "No.")

Dark-haired, brown-eyed Lt. Helen Cassiani of Bridgewater, Mass., said she would like to amplify the answer to the second question.

"It was nerve-racking on Corregidor," said the pretty, 28-year-old heroine. "The plan was to take out all the nurses by submarine to Australia. Sixty-eight of us didn't get out."

"We were scared when we learned it would be impossible to evacuate any more nurses by submarine. We didn't know what to expect from our Jap captors."

"We turned out to be a problem and a liability to the Japs. They seemed surprised to find women on Corregidor with the U. S. Army."

The Army nurses, Lt. Cassiani explained, were taken to Santo Tomas with the civilian internees and "were kept too busy working to be molested."

It was work, work and more work from July 2, 1942, to Feb. 3, 1945, at Santo Tomas, said Lt. Cassiani, who added she had "no time for romance"—either at Santo Tomas or to pen notes back to boy friends in the United States.

Her "biggest thrill," during her days on Bataan, Corregidor and Santo Tomas came when Gen. MacArthur's troops started blasting their way into the internment camp.

"It was on the night of Feb. 3," she said, "when we first realized our troops were coming to liberate us. I was on the second floor of the university building, literally hanging out a window to see the show. From my window, I couldn't see the tanks crashing the front gate—but I could hear the noise and it sounded good. Then I heard American soldiers shout, 'Are there any Japs here?'"

"We all answered 'Yes!' The mopping up started and we soon were free."

Among those traveling with Lt. Cassiani were Lt. Rita G. Palmer, Hampton, N. H., and Lt. Anne B. Wurtz, Leominster, Mass.

ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL CRUISER IN MEDITERRANEAN, Feb. 18 (AP) (Delayed)

—Probably no chief of state ever before presented a wheel chair to another chief of state. But that was President Roosevelt's gift to King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia.

Reporters who joined the Chief Executive today to return home with him learned the Arabian monarch, who finds it somewhat difficult to get around because he was wounded nine times in battle in his younger years, saw Mr. Roosevelt in a wheel chair and admired it. He said such a chair would save him many steps.

Whether it was a hint or not, Mr. Roosevelt dug up a spare and gave it with proper flourishes to the massive, black-bearded ruler.

Bishop Freed by Japs Drops Dead

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (INS)—Most Rev. William H. O'Shea, 60, Roman Catholic bishop of Heijo, Korea, died of a heart attack in Grand Central Station as he was about to board a train for the Maryknoll Seminary at Ossining, N. Y.

After Pearl Harbor, Bishop O'Shea and a group of priests were interned by the Japanese at the Heijo camp. He was released in June, 1942, and arrived in New York on the Gripsholm.

Randolph Pair Die In Blazing Shack

RANDOLPH, Feb. 28—Hershel Ferguson, 43, and his wife, 32, were burned to death early today when fire destroyed their one-story shack, a converted henhouse, in North st.

Fire Chief Harold L. Bailey said the couple evidently had been overcooled before they could reach safety. Ferguson's body was found just inside the window and that of his wife was lying near a bed. Both bodies, according to Chief Bailey, were badly charred.

Kerrigan Spurs Clean-Up Drive

Mayor Kerrigan today launched what he termed is "a continuing campaign to make Boston the cleanest city in the U. S. A."

Three prominent women were named co-chairmen of a committee, which starts work today. They are Mrs. Joseph J. Leonard of Jamaica Plain; Ellen Gleason, member of the board of recreation, Jamaica Plain, and Mrs. Thomas B. McLean of East Boston.

Also on the committee are Public Works Comr. William T. Morrissey and Dr. Frederick J. Bailey, health commissioner.

The mayor said that an appeal would be made to business and industrial firms to provide men and trucks during the beginning of the campaign, and that volunteer workers would be recruited.

$200 IN STOLEN SAFE

A three-foot square safe weighing 400 pounds and containing 2000 red ration points and more than $200 in cash was stolen early today from the Capitol market in Center st., Jamaica Plain.

This is the third of a series of blunt, factual articles setting forth a documented and hitherto undisclosed example of unparalleled Japanese savagery—the treatment of American prisoners of war during 29 months at the Nichols Field slave camp near Manila. The story was discovered and verified by Clark Lee, war correspondent of International News Service.

There they were contract laborers, paid 10 centavos daily, which meant that at the end of the month they had the equivalent of $1.50. This would buy six bananas at the Japanese camp commissary.

For this they were required to load a specified number of two-ton railroad cars daily. The quota was fixed by the Japs with diabolical cruelty according to each man's weakness.

"It was always," released prisoners say, "about two cars more than you could possibly fill with a pick and shovel by sunset."

Seven Americans died in landslides at the gravel pits.

The Japs made a big occasion of the first death.

They buried the victim ceremoniously and placed a cross over the grave. Then the camp commandant lined up the prisoners and made a speech:

"Your comrade has died gloriously for the establishment of a greater East Asia. We want you to do the same."

Six others did. Each time the Japanese halted work in the pits and sprinkled a spoonful of salt in each gravel car while performing some mystic ceremony supposed to appease the gods.

The Americans couldn't resist laughing at the solemn rites even though it meant another beating.

Under a starvation diet, with beatings and without medicines, more and more Americans collapsed. An American doctor went to the camp commandant—by then "The Wolf," who had relieved White Angel—and said: "Unless the men get more food they are going to die."

In a rage, the Wolf ordered a sentry to club the doctor. Another doctor, a major, intervened to try to stay the slashing blows rained down on his fellow officer's head.

As a result, the major was repeatedly slapped with a pistol. Four teeth were knocked out and his jaw was broken.

The Wolf then addressed the bleeding men:

"I don't care if you all die. There's a hundred million more like you in America."

"Soon they'll all be our slaves."

2 Ex-Servicemen Named in Holdup

Two discharged servicemen, allegedly admitting participation in the holdup of a taxicab driver Monday night, were identified in police headquarters lineup today by the victim, Perley G. Bishop of St. Stephen st., Back Bay.

The pair, facing court action later in the day, claimed they obtained only $15 and some change. The driver said they had taken a larger amount.

Letters to Hub Friend Tell Nazi Brutality in France

The brutality of the Nazis during their occupation of France was graphically described by a Frenchman in the U. S. Army in letters received today by his friend, Ludovic Geiskop of Boylston st., Brookline, veteran News of the Day newsreel photographer.

"My wife was attacked in her home some time after my flight to North Africa," Humbert J. Clemente, former commander of Paris American Legion Post, No. 1, wrote.

"Two armed men, a German soldier and a French member of the Gestapo, beat her on the head and face. They also stole her jewels."

Geiskop and Clemente fled Paris to Spain just six hours ahead of the Nazis in 1940. Geiskop continued on to this country after Clemente was jailed for six months by the Spaniards.

Clemente later joined the American Second Army in North Africa and returned to France in the Psychological Warfare Division of Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters. He was reunited with his wife last August.

"She was a living skeleton then, but now she has regained her normal weight, although she is not the same as you knew her in 1940," Clemente wrote.

Expressing appreciation for packages of food and other supplies sent by Geiskop, he added: "My wife was so pleased she pranced around like a child receiving a wonderful Christmas present."

Geiskop, an internationally known newsreel photographer, photographed war scenes for many years before joining the News of the Day staff in Boston.

Traffic Toll Up In Two Years

CHICAGO, Feb. 28 (AP)—The nation's traffic death toll of 2070 in January was 7 per cent less than in January, 1944, but 19 per cent greater than in January, 1943, when public acceptance of wartime restrictions apparently was at its peak, the National Safety Council said today.

"Has the patriotic fervor which greeted wartime traffic restrictions when they first were imposed in 1942 become war-worn along with tires, cars and highways?" asked Donald S. Berry, the council's director of traffic and transportation.

"If so, let's remember that since Pearl Harbor 81,000 Americans have been killed in traffic accidents and at least 3,000,000 injured."

Among 413 cities reporting, 273 had no deaths in January.

3 Saved, 6 Flee South End Fire

Unable to make their way to safety through smoke-filled corridors, two women and a man were carried to safety over ladders early today when fire swept a three-story building at Dartmouth and Tremont sts., South End.

Six other persons were driven out and one fireman was injured in the blaze which caused $10,000 damage, according to Deputy Chief John F. McDonough.

Rescued over ladders were Mrs. Eleanor Gallant, 59, Mrs. Lena Diliberto, 54, and George W. Canney, 74. Those who made their way safely to the street were Henry King, 77, Miss Flora Solomon, Mrs. Lillian O'Connor, 42, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frost, and Fred Dow.

Fireman John Duggan of Ladder 3, resident of Victory rd., Dorchester, was treated at Boston City Hospital for a foot injury sustained when he stepped on a nail.

Kerrigan Backs
Red Cross Drive

Boston citizens were urged to support to the limit the 1945 Red Cross War Fund drive to raise $4,192,600 in this area, beginning today and continuing through March 26, in a proclamation issued by Mayor Kerrigan.

"In accordance with the proclamation issued by President Roosevelt and the Governor of Massachusetts, I submit that the war is not over and that even with its conclusion, the Red Cross must go forward for the good of humanity in the world of tomorrow," the mayor proclaimed.

"The American Red Cross shuttles the blood of Bostonians through its blood donor center to far-off fronts to replace the blood lost by Boston boys, provides food, clothing and medical supplies to prisoners of war.

"The American Red Cross builds the muscle of morale in men whose lives otherwise would be cheerless, keeps them in touch with those back home, cheers the wounded, brings the spirit of America to the bleakest fighting outpost through its clubmobiles and its field directors, and in a hundred other ways is helping the nation to forge a victory of sanity."

Millions Switch To Mutton Suet Idea For Chest Cold Aid

Soothes Rawness Due To Throat and Bronchial Irritations

Many mothers all over America are switching to this idea of getting fast relief for these chest cold miseries. They are simply following Grandma. For years she counted on mutton suet to help carry her home medication to do its pain-easing work on nerve ends in the skin. No wonder so many now welcome Grandma's idea as improved by science—Penetro, with its multi-medicated formula in a base containing mutton suet—that acts both as counter-irritant and pain-reliever when you spread it on, and as a soothing aromatic when breathed in. And so today Penetro hurries along newer help in the old reliable way—help that eases painful misery, lessens coughing, loosens phlegm, soothes chest rawness—so that you can rest more comfortably and give nature a chance to restore vitality. That's why millions are switching to Penetro today—why druggists are recommending it, 25c, double supply 35c. For all your family's chest cold miseries, be sure you get white, easy-to-use Penetro.

'Missing' Lawrence Man Drops In From So. Pacific

LAWRENCE, Feb. 28.—Pvt. William J. Demars, 26, of Kenneth st., dropped into his home today after a jaunt to the South Pacific, and learned from his astounded wife, Gertrude, that he was missing in action.

"Come to think of it, I guess I was," he mused.

"I was on an LST headed toward Mindoro, when Jap suicide planes wrecked the ship. For three days and two nights I floated on a life raft. I kept thinking I saw land, and it was always a mirage.

"Finally I reached a sandbar where natives cared for me, and signaled a plane which took me to a hospital base at Balikpapan.

"Now my only problem is to convince my commanding officer I'm very much alive and ready to fight again."

Mrs. Demars received the War Dept. telegram Feb. 1, but was convinced he was still alive.

First Service Star Club Opens Tonight

All arrangements have been completed for tonight's gala opening of the first Service Star Club for wives, mothers and sweethearts of servicemen and women, in the Dorchester Girls' High School, Codman sq., at which the nucleus of leaders of club activities will be introduced.

These leaders will be available to help get the nation's first Service Star club started, and to take an active part in its affairs. They are Mrs. Katherine Stanton, whose husband, Gerard Stanton, is a Sea-Bee at Pearl Harbor; Mrs. Virginia Towse, whose husband, S-Sgt. Daniel N. Towse, is in France; Mrs. Margaret Bush with two sons in service, and Mrs. Helen O'Brien, with a daughter in uniform.

Four other center leaders have brothers in the service. They are Miss Mary Edwards, Mrs. Constance Regan, Miss Ruth Lyons, and Miss Esther Crocker.

Every G. I. wife, mother, sister and sweetheart in the Dorchester area is invited.

The program will open at 8 p. m. after a musical prelude by the orchestra of the Dorchester School Center, directed by George E. M. Dickinson.

Mrs. Grace Crowley Russell, pianist, will accompany community singing of "God Bless America" and the songs of the armed services, which will be conducted by Edward P. Illingworth, song leader.

The meeting will be formally opened by Mrs. Margaret M. Higgins, manager of the Dorchester School Center, who will be temporary chairman of the G.I. ladies' group.

Mrs. Higgins will introduce Michael J. Ward, chairman of the Boston School Committee, who will call on Rev. Patrick J. Lydon, pastor of St. Mark's Church in Dorchester and national and state chaplain of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who will give the invocation.

Dr. Dennis C. Haley, assistant superintendent in charge of the extended use of Boston public schools, will explain the program being planned for the service wives, mothers, and sweethearts, who then will be asked to check their pet club activities on ballots which will be passed and collected by Senior Service Girl

Scouts of St. Ambrose's Church. Members of the Boston school committee, Daniel J. McDevitt, Dr. Patrick J. Foley, Clement J. Norton and Joseph C. White, will each briefly explain a separate phase of the project. Mrs. David

A. Wescott, Dorchester club leaders in behalf of the Dorchester community, will welcome the club members.

Feeding War's Hungriest Mouth

BRRI! YES, THAT'S ICE! The steamer Irving S. Olds, of the Pittsburgh Steamship Company, holder of the all-time record—a total of 656,471 gross tons of iron ore carried in 1944. She's a recent addition to U. S. Steel's big fleet.

266,000 tons of raw materials a day brought in to keep ahead of Germany and Japan.

THE FIGHTING WEAPONS for your boy aren't made in steel mills alone.

Steel starts in coal mines. 30 million tons of coal from U. S. Steel mines go into steel making each year—82,000 tons a day.

Steel starts in ore mines. 49 million tons of ore from the mines of U. S. Steel are swallowed each year by war-busy steel furnaces.

Steel starts in limestone quarries. 17 million tons of limestone are quarried yearly by U. S. Steel to keep war steels flowing.

Steel is team play. Men, mines, mills, ships, trains are working day and night to keep our tonnage of war steel bigger than that of any Axis country.

With the fighting help of this team, we can again meet requirements in 1945.

20 Catholic Schools Enter Oratory Test

The enthusiastic ranks of the annual William Randolph Hearst Oratorical Contest were swelled today by all 20 parochial high schools in Boston as the Rev. William J. Daly, diocesan supervisor of schools, termed the contest an inspiration.

This year the contest is in honor of James Monroe, great fifth President of the United States, whose leadership contributed so much to the molding of the country.

Open to all public and parochial high school students and college students in Boston, it is known as the James Monroe and the Monroe Doctrine Oratorical Contest.

"This contest honors the contribution to American history of a great American and a great statesman, James Monroe, Fr. Daly said. "It is said to be an inspiration to our young people to study the life of the man who laid the basis of the foreign policy which brought strength and security of the North and South American republics against foreign interference and aggression."

The final elimination intramural contests in Boston will close April 3, and on April 10, in historic Faneuil Hall, the winners in each school will compete in the final city contest.

The top winners in the two groups, high school and college, will be eligible to compete in the eastern zone contests which will be held in New York April 17. The winners of the zone contest will then be eligible to compete in the national contest.

Local prizes in the contest will total $1000 in War Bonds, equally divided between the high school and college groups. The prizes in each group will be: First, $250; second, $100; third, $75; fourth, $50; fifth, $25.

National prizes, also awarded to each group of contestants will be: First prize, $1000 in War Bonds and a trip of historical interest with all expenses paid, details of which will be announced later; $100 to all runners-up in the national finals; $50 to all qualifying for the eastern zone finals, in which the champions of New York, Boston, Baltimore and Albany will compete for the national finals; $50 for all students qualifying for their zone finals.

James Monroe was the intimate of Thomas Jefferson, James Madison and John Marshall. The three Virginians were among the closely-knit group that also included John Adams, which took over the nursing of the young republic from Washington, its father.

Adams, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe followed Washington in the presidency. A cool and level-headed statesman, Monroe was sent to France as envoy by Washington. Later he was Jefferson's plenipotentiary to the same country to negotiate the Louisiana Purchase.

Madison made Monroe his Secretary of State and Secretary of War. Monroe succeeded Madison in the presidency.

by the capture of the Erft bridge intact.

"The move was so fast that obviously the Germans were caught unprepared," AP Correspondent Pen Whitehead reported from Lt. Gen. Hodges' headquarters.

The crossing was made in a marshy area where the 10-foot river is canalized except for one shallow stream on the east side. The Erft was crossed about a place where there was a bridge. Americans were up in the river in a wide front and American artillery was raining shells into the Vorgebirge, a ridge filled with brown coal, just beyond the stream.

In six days, the Ninth Army has counted 82,035 Germans streaming into prison cages, and many hundreds still are to be talked.

British troops of the Canadian Army in the north captured long and bitterly defended Calcar without firing a shot. They took Hennepe, south of Greth on the Rhine, giving the Allies three more miles of footing on the west bank of the wide river. Hunseler, immediately east of Calcar, fell. German defenses on the Maas weakened. At several points, white flags appeared on houses.

Gen. Henry Crerar's Canadians had cleared 41 meandering miles of the western bank of the Rhine from north of Nimwegen to Hennepe.

South of Calcar, the Canadians with tanks and flame-throwers battered 500 yards into defenses hidden in the dark Hecwald forest within cannon shot of the Ruhr.

Under blackout restrictions, only these positions of Ninth Army divisions were permitted to be disclosed:

36th (Old Hickory) at Keeningshoven, on the Erft, and Garzweiler, 13 miles southwest of Dusseldorf.

102nd (Ozark) at Buchholz and Herrath, within four miles southeast of Muenchen Gladbach.

Eighty-fourth (Rail Splatters) at Walden, just west of Muenchen Gladbach.

Thirty-fifth (Santa Fe) at Wassenberg, Olbeck and Luchtersberg, all about eight miles west of Erkelenz, long since passed by forward units.

In the Third Army the Fourth Armored Division reached the Kyll river within two miles of Kyllburg.

The 76th (onaway) reached a point seven miles northwest of Trier and cleared Sulentern and Puzerwey, between Bittburg and Trier.

The Tenth armored division breaking up from the southeast captured 650 Germans.

The Fifth Division fought on in Bittburg, and advanced a mile east and northeast.

The Sixth Cavalry crossed the Puern river at two new points, advancing beyond Waxweiler.

The Fourth Armored Division mopped up areas overrun and by-passed.

The 55th Division cleared Saarhausen, for miles southeast of Saarburg and repulsed a counter-attack by capturing 150 to 200 attacking Germans.

The 87th and Fourth Infantry and Sixth Armored divisions attacked along the relatively dormant northern end of that sector and reached a point six miles northeast of Pueren, 50 miles from Coblenz.

west and northwest and the United States the south. This country was to have the area below the bend of the Rhine at Mainz, including the Provinces of Baden, Bavaria and Wurttemberg, with a supply corridor to the sea at Bremen on the north.

The arrangement is subject to change, particularly in the proposed British and American zones, because of a decision to offer France an opportunity to keep a thumb on part of the Reich.

Mr. Roosevelt visualized Germany and Japan as future members of the United Nations organization, at such time as they have proved themselves worthy of places in it.

But he was insistent they first must purge themselves, reverse militaristic tendencies they have shown for decades and demonstrate an ability to live peacefully among nations.

A GLASSING TRIFLE!
It's light... smooth as silk... palatable—yet it's so rich with flavor, so delicious in taste! It makes an Old Fashioned that's creamy, velvety—a truly remarkable drink, thanks to a truly remarkable whiskey!

WANTED! BY FLEISCHMANN

Good Judges of Good Whiskey to try a Fine Old Brand!

Wouldn't you like to serve a whiskey that has the full, ripe richness of the world's finest, most limited brands? If you would, now you can! Read why!

FOR AN "OLD FASHIONED" that tastes like cream—to be level teaspoon of granulated sugar, add 2 or 3 dashes of bitters in an Old Fashioned glass, and just enough water to dissolve the sugar. Made with Add ice cubes, 1 1/2 oz. of FLEISCHMANN'S PREFERRED. Garnish with cherry, twisted lemon peel, or orange and pineapple!

THIS invitation is written for the few men who are really good judges of good whiskey... who can appreciate a whiskey that is as gloriously rich, creamy and delicious as the world's finest, most limited brands—and who do not need anything more to confirm them in their judgment.

We set out several years ago to see if we could make such a whiskey. We spared no expense. We experimented. We drew from the world's choicest reserves. We selected the finest grains, and backed them up with the world's most delicate skill.

The result is—Fleischmann's PREFERRED, one of the world's most remarkable whiskeys. Velvety! Creamy! Full! Delicious! We can offer Fleischmann's PREFERRED only in limited amounts for some time to come, because our facilities have been devoted to the war effort... but if your dealer has Fleischmann's PREFERRED, try it! You'll always be glad you did!

THE WORLD'S GREATEST "MANHATTAN"? We say not! Just take 1 dash of Angourea Butters, 2 oz. sweet vermouth, and 1 1/2 oz. of FLEISCHMANN'S PREFERRED. Stir with ice, strain into 4-ounce glass, add one Maraschino cherry! That's all!

FLEISCHMANN'S PREFERRED BLENDED WHISKEY

The straight whiskeys in this product are 4 years or more old; 35% straight whiskeys, 65% neutral spirits distilled from grain. 90 Proof. The Fleischmann Distilling Corporation, Peekskill, N.Y.

AND IT'S

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Today marks the first anniversary of the Veterans' Friend column in the Record-American and Sunday Advertiser.

Throughout the year, the column has helped families of servicemen in thousands of ways and has striven faithfully to establish a human and intimate liaison between kin of members of the armed forces and various government agencies.

More than 25,000 queries have been submitted to the column during the last year by mail and telephone.

By maintaining a close association with representatives of War and Navy Departments, with the Veterans' Administration, with various veterans' organizations, the editor has aided in solving thousands of problems of vital interest to relatives of the men and women who have fought and are fighting for victory on America's far-flung battlefronts.

Today questions and answers, beginning the second year of this service to readers, follow:

Q—I have lost the card with my allowance number on it, and since I must move, how should I notify the Office of Dependency Benefits? B. L. D. Brockton.

A—Write to the ODB, 213 Washington st., Newark, N. J., giving your new address, the serviceman's name, Army serial number and your own full name and old address. Also notify the local postmaster of your old address in writing.

Q—I am a widow of a veteran of World War II. If I take a job, will it have any effect on my pension? E. H., Milford.

A—It will not. You receive the death compensation as a result of the loss of your husband's life in service. You are entitled to it no matter what other income you receive. A wife is entitled by reason of relationship and does not need to prove dependency.

Q—I am the mother of a serviceman who expects to marry soon. Will my family allowance stop when he marries? E. C. Brighton.

A—Not if your son will consent to an additional pay deduction of $5 for your family allowance. His wife will be a Class A dependent, and it is compulsory for the serviceman to have $22 deducted from his pay for his wife's family allowance of $50 per month. If he has dependents in the Class B group, he may make them eligible for a family allowance if he will consent to an additional $5 deduction from his pay, making a total of $27 deduction each month for his wife and mother.

It's the GI's Jack-of-all-jobs

We mean the Army's 80-octane all-purpose gasoline. While 100-octane gas flies high, its down-to-earth brother is in there pitching with the GI's all the way.

Atlantic's job is to give the Armed Forces what they want, when they want it. That means vast quantities of the aviation super-fuel you've heard so much about. It also means vast quantities of 80-octane.

You haven't read much about this gasoline—because little has been written about it. Constantly, however, you're reading about Army operations which rely upon it. "All-purpose" means just what it says . . . so much so that Atlantic alone is called upon to supply the Army with tens of millions of gallons a year.

All the complex field operations of the American ground forces are based upon use of this single fuel. Research has made it a gasoline that operates superbly in the heaviest equipment and the most delicate.

Tanks, trucks and jeeps travel on 80-octane. It powers the lighting in tent operating rooms. The refrigerators in which blood plasma is kept. Dentists' drills and delousing units operate on this gasoline . . . and it is put to literally hundreds of other essential uses.

Small wonder, then, that the Armed Forces call all-purpose one of the outstanding petroleum products. Research can be thanked for that. Working now to help win the war, Atlantic research will bring you finer petroleum products of all kinds for use in peace.

My Day By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Tuesday—Yesterday the second buffet lunch was held here and the panel on the Dumbarton Oaks proposals was again presented under Mrs. Charles Tillet's auspices. All the ladies taking part yesterday—Mrs. Irene Berlin, Mrs. Raymond Clapper, Hon. Emily Taft Douglas and Mrs. Joseph Lash did an excellent piece of work.

One of the things which I think should be emphasized is the fact that these are proposals on broad agreements. They may be changed. They do not enter into the procedure which shall be followed within each nation on the method of choosing delegates or the members of committees. These details will be settled by the nations themselves, and do not need agreement from other nations.

AT 1 O'CLOCK I stopped in for a few minutes at the tea given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Jewish Consumptive Relief Society of Denver. I returned to the White House in time to hold a conference with the newly-elected officers of my press conference association.

In the evening I went out to American University, where a small group of Navy Department civilian employees, about 34 girls from 22 states, ranging in age from 18 to 40 are working on a college course. They do a full day's work six days a week, then do seven hours of college work. President Douglas of American University told me that their grades were remarkably high.

I attended one of the English classes and then went back and had a very nice time talking with the girls.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

THE ENGAGEMENT RING—The engagement ring is always given in private. If the engagement is announced at a party, the girl is wearing her ring before the announcement is made.

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
WHEN A GIRL IS YOUNG, she has a right to be lovely. And, so, a typical beauty-seeking girl writes a typical letter about a typical problem... her hair. It is so characteristic of the besetting annoyances which confound most women these days... we're making the reply an open discourse.

She writes:
"My hair is a medium brown, and I wear it long and fluffy with a tiny waved bang... I am 22 and married. I would like to make it prettier... can you suggest anything for brown hair? What makes hair thick and long? Further, living in a factory and railroad district as I do, I have trouble keeping it lustrous. I usually wear hats and kerchiefs, and I find I must wash it about every three days to keep it free from grime, smoke and clogged oil, as it is on the oily side anyway."

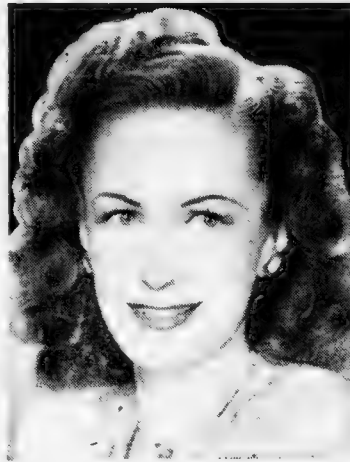

No wonder it is on the oily side from such frequent shampooing. The first law of hair beauty is cleanliness. Like fine mahogany furniture, hair must be kept free from dust and dirt if you expect it to shine and glow. Yet, if you wash your hair too frequently, you may dry it out and make it harsh, brittle and dull in tone. Or you may make it excessively oily.

There is no need for such frequent hair drenchings. The scalp and hair can be kept immaculately clean and exquisitely fresh by lotion-cleansing and brushing between shampoos that should not occur more than once a week at best. This special cleansing lotion will cleanse away dust and loose dandruff... and help to keep the circulation of the scalp functioning normally. And the healthier your hair is the longer it keeps clean... for it will shed dust more easily. Then tone with a preparation for oily hair.

This specialized scalp treatment with vigorous daily brushing will eliminate the necessity of frequent washings... and will help keep the natural oils from overflowing the scalp. But, instead, direct them into natural channels into the hair shaft where it belongs to keep hair soft and lustrous. For hair strands must be lubricated right down to the end.

Then every week or 10 days... use a castle soap shampoo which forces even the stubbornest war-time grit and grime to yield to its marvelous, thorough cleansing, embodying a hair beauty treatment in itself.

Pink Among Spring Colors

By BETTINA BEDWELL

PLENTY of the new Spring styles come in pink, it being a favorite color with some of our best designers. You may think this is a little early for such a delicate shade, but you won't say so when you see how pink is paired off with black, navy, gray and beige to make it palatable in early Spring. And there are a lot of pink dresses around to wear under warm coats from now on far into Summer.

Charles Armour makes some of the neatest of these pink frocks, for he decorates them with a new kind of white eyelet embroidery that is a flowers set on only the center, and otherwise floating. Very attractive, this kind of embroidery.

A pink dress from this designer is sketched, and it has this embroidery, done in a scattered all-over pattern in white eyelet, the daisies being only attached at their centers, and the stems and leaves in the fabric.

Children Like These Top Low-Point Meat Dishes

By MARTHA LEE

ONE OF THE REASONS that meal planners do not use more of the thrifty low-point meats, we find, is that they do not know how to cook them so they will be sweet and tender. The answer is generally cooking them in moist heat for a fairly long time—depending upon the meat itself and the amount to be served.

Though lamb breast can be roasted, stuffed with dressing, or boned and rolled, the dish that brings the greatest satisfaction is braised lamb riblets with vegetables. Children like them, for they're delicious and small—and can be eaten in the fingers if mother permits.

Children, too, like the dish brought to the table still bubbling hot in the heavy iron skillet. That means they can start right in, and there'll surely be more for a second helping.

BRAISED LAMB RIBLETS WITH VEGETABLES

1 lb. lamb riblets 2 tsp. salt
Salt and pepper 1/2 cup water
1 carrots 1 potatoes
1 large onion 1 green pepper
Brown lamb riblets well on all sides in hot fat. Season. Add water. Cover and simmer 1 hour. Add diced vegetables. Cover and simmer 1/2 hour longer. Thicken gravy and serve with meat and vegetables. Makes 4 servings.

LAMB AND LIMA BEAN STEW

1 1/2 lbs. lamb breast steak or neck
1 lb. dried lima beans
1 onion, sliced
1 carrot, sliced
1 potato, sliced
1 green pepper, sliced
2 tsp. salt 1/2 cup water
1/2 cup tomato paste
1/2 cup ketchup

Wash lima beans and soak overnight in cold water. Drain. Cut lamb into 1-inch pieces and brown in hot fat with onion, A1 salt and pepper and place in casserole. Add lima beans and tomatoes. Cover and cook at 300 deg. F. for about 2 hours or until both meat and beans are tender. Makes 6 or 6 servings.

BRAISED SHORT RIBS OF BEEF

4 lbs. beef short ribs 2 tsp. fat
1 onion, sliced
1 carrot, sliced
1 potato, sliced
1 green pepper, sliced
2 tsp. salt 1/2 cup water
1/2 cup tomato paste
1/2 cup ketchup

2 tsp. salt 1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 onion, minced
1/2 cup water 2 carrots
2 stalks celery
1/2 green pepper

Cut short ribs into individual squares and dredge with flour. Brown slowly on all sides in hot fat. Add seasonings, onion, and water. Cover and simmer 2 hours. Add vegetables, cut in small pieces. Continue cooking for 30 to 40 minutes, adding water as needed. Remove meat to platter. Thicken the vegetable gravy with 1 tablespoon of flour stirred into 1/2 cup water. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

CURRIED BEEF

2 1/2 lbs. boneless brisket
5 tbsp. flour
1 tsp. curry powder
2 medium onions, sliced
Fat 2 cups water
1/2 cup tomatoes
1 tbsp. vinegar
2 tbsp. grape jelly
2 1/2 tsp. salt

Put beef in 2-inch pieces. Roll in flour and curry. Cook onions in drippings then brown the meat in it. Add the water and tomatoes. Put in casserole, cover and cook in a slow oven (300 deg. F.) for 3 hours or until tender. When ready to serve, add vinegar and jelly and more curry if desired. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

How to Make a Splendid Cough Syrup at Home

A Big Saving, and It's So Easy! No Cooking!
Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of plain syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 3 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble at all. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey instead of sugar syrup. Then get from your druggist 2 1/2 ounces of linct, pour it into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of truly wonderful linct for coughs due to colds. It makes a real saving for you, because it gives you about four times as much for your money. It lasts a long time, never spoils, and children love it. This is actually a surprisingly effective, quick-acting cough medicine. Promptly, you feel it taking hold. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You've never seen anything better for prompt and pleasing results. Linct is a special compound of proven ingredients, in convenient form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

NO MORE BIG HOLES IN BREAD!

No more soft fillings dripping out of sandwiches

For EXTRA ENERGY Eat Energy-charged WONDER BREAD

Thanks to a revolutionary new baking method, you can now get bread with no big holes that leak sandwich fillings on shirts or dresses. Compare a slice from the middle of the loaf of new Wonder Bread with ordinary bread—see the amazing difference!

Get Extra Energy

Energy comes only from the food you eat. Thus, to get more energy eat more energy food. Nature gets energy out of food with the help of Vitamins B₁ and B₂ and Iron.

This is how: The two vitamins help to oxidize food in the cells; and the iron in your blood brings oxygen to the cells. Study the chart. Then eat extra slices of energy-charged Wonder Bread every day to get extra energy.

Get Vitamin B₁, Iron

Ask for Wonder Bread by name because it contains Vitamin B₁ and B₂ and Iron necessary to help Nature properly transform it into energy for your body.

Remember—only Wonder Bread is sold under its famous $1,000 Vitamin B₁ guarantee.

Doubly Fresh

In addition, energy-charged Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it, fresh when you eat it. Because Wonder Bread is also baked—13% longer than many ordinary kinds for lasting freshness.

Dempsey Said Sharkey 'Too Fast, Hits Too Hard'

By JACK CONWAY

COMMANDER JACK Dempsey touched off a fistic bomb when he failed to name Jack Sharkey on his list of the 10 best men he ever fought. While the old Manassa Mauler passed up Sharkey, he included Billy Miske, Georges Carpentier and Battling Levinsky, who were only light heavyweights. He even found a spot for Fred Fulton, whom he knocked out with a single punch.

Others on the Dempsey list were Gene Tunney, who defeated him twice; Louis Firpo, who knocked the former champion through the ropes; Tom Gibbons, who weathered 15 hard rounds at Shelby, Mont.; Bill Brennan, Jess Willard and Wilkes Smith.

Tunney and Firpo are the only heavyweights on the Dempsey ratings who could have given Sharkey a hard fight. The remainder of the honors named by Dempsey would have been without too much effort by Sharkey.

Dempsey probably knows better than most people how fortunate he was to win on a knockout from Sharkey in their New York bout. Dempsey took more punishment in that fight than in any match in his career.

Sharkey was a youthful, impetuous fighter at the time and he tried to knock out Dempsey in a round. He had seen Tunney stagger Dempsey with a right hand punch to the jaw in their Philadelphia bout, and he decided to have a chance to stop the former title holder.

Dempsey Badly Dazed

IT IS SELDOM that a heavyweight has stood up under as severe a hammering as Dempsey received from Sharkey in the first round. Billy Duffy, Dempsey's chief second, told me he used a special stimulant to revive Dempsey between rounds. The second session was also a rough one for Dempsey, and Duffy had to work wonders with the Manassa Mauler to get him out for the third round.

If Sharkey could have maintained his mauling pace for another three rounds, Dempsey would have been knocked out. As it was, Dempsey went on to win in a bout that was a national "Fair or Foul" controversy.

Mike no mistake if Dempsey's respect for Sharkey is a heavyweight. I was present when Dempsey refused an offer of $350,000 and a 37½ per centage privilege to meet Sharkey in a return bout in New York. The offer was made a few days before the Sharkey-Stribling bout in Florida.

"I would fight Stribling if he could beat Sharkey," said Dempsey. "Stribling is a grabber and I could get a punch at him. Sharkey is too fast and punches too hard."

It was suggested that Sharkey nailed Dempsey with a lucky punch.

"Sharkey hit me with a dozen terrific blows," said Dempsey. "I don't want to fight him again. If Tom Heeney beats Gene Tunney, I would meet Heeney, or I would fight Puma Camera, but I would not fight Sharkey or Tunney."

Turned Down $750,000

FOLLOWING the "Battle of the Long Count" in Chicago between Dempsey and Tunney, Tex Rickard tried to re-match the men for a 15-round battle in New York. I was with Dempsey when Rickard made him a $750,000 offer for the bout.

"Tunney has the boxing style that will always beat me," said Dempsey. "I do not care to take the match."

I would rate Sharkey, Firpo and Tunney as the toughest men Dempsey ever fought. Firpo had Dempsey dazed when he belted him through the ropes with a right hand punch.

"I really lost the title when I was assisted back into the ring after Firpo landed his terrific punch," Dempsey declared when interviewed by this writer during a recent war bond tour. "Firpo was a great puncher and I didn't know where I was when he knocked me into the press box. It was against the rules for anyone to assist me back into the ring."

In the postwar periods, boxing promoters would like to see some heavyweights with the class of Dempsey, Tunney and Sharkey. Joe Louis would then not have to concern himself about opponents. Joe has a million-dollar match with Billy Conn for the postwar period, but once past Conn the champion will have to look around closely to get a bit opponent.

Milton Five Eyes Class B Bid

By MIKE GILLOOLY

The kids at Milton High School fully realize that wishing won't make it so but if it would Coach E. Tracey's basketball team would be among the top nominees for the Class B Tech Tourney championships to be held next week at the Garden. Milton has wound up a season and they're nothing left to do on the court but cross their fingers and pray that they'll draw a favor hand from Director H. M. MacArthur.

Coach Tracey's outfit has hung up an 11-1 record over the season none too impressive until you take a peek at the competition that the Milton outfit faced.

Two of Milton's losses were to the Academy which has a great team this season and both were close, one being decided in overtime. The other two setbacks came at the hands of Tech's defending champion B club, Braintree. But meanwhile, Milton was stopping Rockland, Weymouth, Dedham, Needham, Hingham, Weymouth, Stoughton and the Alameda. That should qualify the team for the Garden carnival.

Coach Tracey started this season with but one left over from last year's team, Capt. Dick Lamore, but he had some strong reserves coming back. Don Morgan, crackery-center on the second team last season, fitted nicely into the first combination of forwards with Dick Witham, welcoming a promotion from the substitutes.

Al Rota, Art Gordon and Charlie Conley give Milton three good guards. As a sophomore, Rota was the high scorer on the team but he was forced to the sidelines last winter with a leg injury. His successful comeback has been a big boost to the team.

"The team isn't particularly big

Pics Use M'Gill, Flamon In Opener at Baltimore

By HUCK FINNEGAN

The Olympics never have won a U. S. A. H. A. play-off series, but there's always a first time. And that first time should begin tonight at Baltimore, for the Pics will have Jack McGill and Fern Flamon of the Bruins on their side when they open against the Blades.

"This is the one, boys," Coach Hago Harrington had told his Pics after their last Boston practice. He was somewhat skeery of the Blades, who are tough to beat on their home ice. Hago fears them more than New York, Washington or Philly.

"I think we can beat them, however," Hago admitted after his minions had departed. And that was BEFORE he knew he'd have McGill.

Hago won't have McGill or Flamon for Sunday's game here with Washington, for they'll be playing with the Bruins in Detroit, but he should get "over the hump" tonight, and this is the one he wants most of all.

How come the Pics didn't win the playoffs last winter after a season's record of 36 won, 3 lost and 1 tied? Because any "amateur" team in the U. S. is eligible to compete in the U. S. A. H. A. playoffs and the U. S. Coast Guard rounded up a band of 33 including big leaguers Frankie Brimsek, Art Coulter and Mariucue. They were too strong for the Pics.

CONDITIONS BETTER NOW

This year it's entirely different. Only teams entered in the playoffs are those from the Eastern League, for the teams the Pics have been beating this winter. And now they should be able to beat them again, especially tonight, with McGill and Flamon on hand.

Harrington will shift Theo Hamel from center to defense tonight, pairing with Murray Henderson, Morris Lall and Fraser Bowman will alternate with them.

Foxy Balked At Salary Cut

It was a cut in salary and demotion from a faculty member basis to that of part-time coach that forced Emmanuel "Foxy" Flumore to chuck his Northeastern coaching job out the window; he declined it last.

The popular young coach, now director of physical education at Malden High and line coach of its football team, had been coaching at N. U. since graduation in '34.

That fall he assisted Head Coach Jimmy Dunn with the football team. The next two seasons he was freshman coach of football, basketball and baseball. In '42 he was varsity coach in all three sports after Dunn and Herb Gallagher entered the service.

N. U. dropped football in '43 but Flumore stayed on as varsity

TODAY A YEAR AGO—Sammy Byrd won $5000 golf tournament at New Orleans with 285 for 72 holes.

THREE YEARS AGO—Requested sum $25,000 added Flamingo stakes at Hialeah Park, with Redhorn second and Alab third.

FIVE YEARS AGO—Dewitt Page, 74, owner of Maemore Farm Stable, died during race program at Hialeah.

TEN YEARS AGO—"Babe" Ruth arrived in Boston to sign new contract with Braves and was warned by C. F. Adams, vice-president and controlling stockholder of club, that he must resign his managerial ability before being given full charge of them in 1936.

Flamon was with the Pics all season until the B's lifted him to oppose the Rangers Sunday, so he'll fit in nicely. McGill has been up and down twice. McGill and Henderson practiced with both Bruins and Pics at Arena, a two-hour workout. Lallo, very popular with P's fans, worked in a gold mine 4500 feet deep in his native Ontario for five years, before turning to hockey to get the air. He's 21, weighs 208 and will be a fine drawing card if he improves enough to make the big time. "He's improving," said Harrington, "because he's beginning to listen." Harrington will get out on the ice and shows his players how it should be done. . . . Lallo's skates, size 9½, are so worn he borrowed a pair of 9's from Herb Cam to wear tonight. . . . Flamon is only 18. . . . Fillion is as good a skater as you'd care to see.

Pics will stop at the Lord Baltimore Hotel tonight, will return home tomorrow. They'll practice at the Arena Friday and Saturday before their Sunday game with the Lions. . . . Baltimore crept within a point of the Pics in January on the wings of nine straight wins while the Pics were reeling from 14 games in 19 nights. But the Pics pulled themselves together, whaled the Blades in their home 8-2 and proceeded to wipe up the rest of the league. . . . If this team had been intact all season, it would have been the best I ever coached," said Harrington.

Baltimore is rugged and a good passing team. Harrington had a good word for Powell, Hursley, Lubeck, Carlson, Bedard, Kovalchuck. "They've had spotty goaltending all season," Hago said. Four men have been used at the position. . . . Harrington's party consisted of Fillion, Kopak, Brennan, Lallo, Bowman, Ernst, McGill, Flamon, Ruttinger, Schmidt, Hamel, Henderson, Bennett, Courteau, trainer Hammy Moore. Each team is permitted to use 13 men in the playoffs, two more than were used in league games.

Frankie Mario Gets Most Deserved Break

By BILL GRIMES

There wasn't any manpower shortage yesterday while the Bruins were working out at the Arena. So many puck chasers were milling around, the scene resembled a pre-season practice session up in Quebec City.

For the first time, probably in the annals of the club, the Bruins had FOUR lines in action.

Frankie Mario, who was recalled from Chicago by the Canadian military to take his physical in Montreal last Friday, checked in yesterday morning. Mario was discharged from the Canadian Army, after two and a half years service, to undergo a hernia operation. He had volunteered immediately after the American Hockey League play offs late in April 1942. His call-up didn't come until nine months later.

After Mario had been examined last week in Montreal, the authorities made a thorough investigation of his case. He is married and also helps to support his father and mother, who are in Regina. During the two and a half years he was in the Army, Mario sent money to his dependents. And, since he has been playing for the Bruins, he has sent all his living expenses back to Canada.

TYPHOONS INTACT AGAIN

Although at first the Canadian authorities were all for re-inducting him into the service, Mario's volunteering, long prior to his call-up, plus the fact that he has legitimate dependents, softened up the military.

He argued that he could make more money playing hockey than he could receive from any work in Canada and that because of his folks he was anxious to finish the N. H. L. season. After he had submitted a letter from Pres. Mervyn Dutton to the Selective Service Board. Mario was given an extension to May 1.

With Frankie Mario back, the Typhoons are intact again. So, Mgr. Art Ross must find a new spot for Jack McGill, who is too valuable an asset to pass up even in peacetime.

Coach Dit Clapper used McGill at center ice with Murray Henderson at left wing and Fernie Flamon at right wing yesterday. Although a new combination, the Henderson-McGill-Flamon trio looked on a par with any of the regular three lines. In order to enable them to develop some plays, Manager Art Ross sent Henderson, McGill and Flamon to Baltimore today with the Olympics. McGill is now in pretty good condition, but Henderson needs another week or two before he will be ready for N. H. L. competition.

The Bruins are laying off today because there's no ice available, but they'll be back at the Arena tomorrow noon and again on Friday, for their final workout before going to Detroit.

Passing the Puck

With the midnight curfew on, what will happen during the coming Stanley Cup play-offs if the teams are deadlocked when the clock strikes twelve? That's just one of Pres. Mervyn Dutton's problems.

Although he is frequently off the beam when he attempts to go back in hockey, the great Mr. Lytle of the Toronto Star really pulled one when he stated that it was Frank Calder, James Norris and the Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, who negotiated with Frank Patrick for the purchase of the Western Canadian Hockey League. It was Mr. C. F. Adams, owner of the Bruins, who financed that $300,000 deal.

The Canucks claim that the Red Wings' defense, Bill Hollett, Earl Seibert, Bill Quackenbush and Hal Jackson is the toughest foursome in the N. H. L. It's been over two years since Detroit has beaten Montreal, so that assertion doesn't sound like the McCoy, unless they are patting themselves on the backs.

Frankie Boucher, the Ranger coach, believes that the N. H. L. will play two more hockey seasons. If it does, the big, slow moving defenseman, will be returned to the farm to make room for the speed boys.

Lt. Jack Riley, of the U. S. Marine Air Corps, is home on a 24-day embarkation leave and worked out with the Olympics yesterday, as did Jack Garrity, a former Medford High star, who is a bombardier in the U. S. Army Air Corps. Lt. Riley is on the Bruins' contingent negotiation list.

Recently, some of the Canadians were called by the selective service for examination. They were all rejected, two because they worked at defense plants.

Terry Reardon, who belongs to the Bruins but who was on loan to the Canadians when he entered the Canadian Army, has been invalided back home. He was a captain with the Queen's Own Rifles and was wounded in the shoulder by a sniper at Falaise. He's described as a "medical walking case."

The loquacious Babe Pratt, of the Maple Leafs, is picking the

Szabo Risks His Wrestling Title

Sander Szabo, duration heavyweight champion and former member of the Olympic team, will be risking his title tonight against Lewie Laird, 280-pound Texan in the main bout of Fremont Paul Bowser's weekly wrestling program at the Arena.

Laird will be substituting for Wilbur Morgan, former U. S. Marine, who has been sidelined with a leg injury.

MAIN EVENT: Sander Szabo, California vs. Lewie Laird, Texas.

SEMI-FINAL: Manuel Cortez, East Boston vs. Flaminio.

SPECIAL BOUT: Ed White, Alabama vs. Leo Numa, Seattle.

OPENING BOUT: Sal Balbo, Quincy vs. Tiger Tanker, Canada.

Sugar Robinson Sent For Another Exam

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Ray "Sugar" Robinson, outstanding welterweight boxer who in his last two bouts has helped gross $187,365, was sent to Fort Jay for further examination yesterday after undergoing a second pre-induction Army examination. Robinson was inducted two years ago, but was honorably discharged last year under the Section Eight clause.

Finazzo Brothers Arrive for Fights

The Finazzo brothers—Johnny and Al—have arrived in Boston. This guarantees that at least two-fifths of the Callahan A. C. will be on hand for the boxing carnival at Mechanics Building Thursday night.

Both Baltimore belters looked in condition after their army training.

Since being discharged from the Army, Finazzo has advanced in the middleweight ranks with a rapidity that has made him one of the East's best drawing cards. In twice beating Babe Wright in Washington only a brief but back, Johnny Finazzo caused plenty of gossip in fistic circles.

His brother Al has been doing equally well since getting out of the Army three months ago and he expects to give a great account of himself in the extra fight of the night, a six-round semi-final with Goodie Miller of New York, who lost a close decision to Bert Lytle a week ago last Monday at Providence.

Bert Lytle scored another victory last Monday night at Providence, where he knocked out Charlie Jones in nine rounds.

The regulars played only brief—

Nova Scotia, who had made such a sad debut in Boston is getting another chance to prove himself in a six-rounder with tough Eddie Dooey of New York.

Rhode Island State

Registers 130 Points

KINGSTON, R. I., Feb. 28 (AP)—Rhode Island State's basketball players shattered records here last night as they thumped the Yeshiva College quintet of New York, 130-74, eclipsing the 127-50 mark set against New Hampshire three years ago. The Rams also set a new mark for themselves when they scored 73 points in the first half, leading 73-39 at the point.

Capt. Ernie Calverley scored 37 points, Dick Hole 35 and Mike Santoro 31.

The regulars played only brief—

Golfers Urged to Attend Meeting

John Corcoran, who is the executive secretary of the Massachusetts Golf Association, would appreciate it if as many golfers as possible would take time off from their work tomorrow to attend a meeting in Room 207 at the State House.

The objective of the meeting is to have the Riverside Golf Club, a state owned course, renamed the Leo Martin Memorial Golf Club.

Leo Martin was the 1940 New England amateur champion and the following year he captured the Massachusetts amateur title by beating Milton B. Reach, Jr., at the Longmeadow Country Club. Leo enlisted in the U. S. Navy shortly after the war started and was the head of a gun crew on a merchant ship when he was killed in the North Atlantic.

The Martin twins, Leo and Edward, were outstanding amateur golfers for years. They came up through the caddies and juniors ranks and won a number major four ball invitations. Along with being the New England and state amateur and caddy champion, Leo was the medalist in the state classic in 1938 and 1939.

Leo Martin did enough for golf to have the Commonwealth of Massachusetts perpetuate his memory.

Army Takes Phils' Lupien

Ulysses Lupien of Lexington first baseman for the Philadelphia N. L. Club, will be inducted into the service Monday at Ft. Banks, it was learned today.

The 1939 Harvard captain batted .283 in 153 games for the Phils last season, was runner-up to Johnny Barrett of the Pirates in stolen bases with 18. McCormick of the Reds (.305), Sander of the Cards (.295) and Dahlgren of the Pirates (.289) were the only first sackers to out him.

Prior to the 1944 season, Lupien was the property of the Boston Red Sox. He served at Scranton, Little Rock and Louisville before succeeding Jimmie Fox as Sox first sacker in '42. He played regularly in '42 and '43. Lupien is married and the father of two children.

Irish Coaches Available for Job

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 28 (AP)—Notre Dame University was silent today on a possible successor to head Football Coach Ed McKeever, who yesterday announced he had signed a contract to coach Cornell University's gridgers.

The Ramblers had three possible successors right on the campus, but whether one of the three would be given a chance to pick up where McKeever left off after one highly successful season was not known. They are Hugh Devore, Adam Walsh and Clem Crowe, all former Irish grid stars and on the athletic coaching staff.

Devore, captain of the 1933 Irish team, spent several years as end coach at Fordham and two years as head coach at Providence. He came here in 1942.

Walsh, 1924 Notre Dame captain, is on leave from Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me. He was head coach and athletic director there until sports were dropped for the duration.

Crowe, head basketball coach in addition to assistant football coach, is on leave from Xavier University, Cincinnati, where he was head coach and athletic director until the war cut into college sports.

McKeever Reports To Cornell April 1

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 28 (AP)—Texas Ed McKeever, whose 1944 Notre Dame football team won eight of 10 games, reports to Cornell April 1 as head coach.

Robert Kane, Cornell athletic director, announced signing of McKeever after a conference here yesterday. He did not disclose salary or other contract terms.

McKeever succeeds Carl Snavely who resigned after the 1941 grid season to go to North Carolina. The new coach expects to issue a call for spring practice about April 15.

TODAY'S HONOR ROLL OF CASUALTIES

"White shall they gleam, the tall refashioned cities in a day when we'll remember anguish passed away as a dream and the dark shadow a dream."
—(Audrey Brown.)

The War Department announced today the names of 2349 men wounded in the European area, including 106 with next of kin residing in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Maine.

Next of kin, in all cases, have been kept informed directly by the War Department of any change in status. In case of divergence between this list and information sent to next of kin, the department's last telegram or letter to next of kin is the final authority on the status of a soldier.

The Navy Dept. announced 83 casualties of the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard, including six with next of kin residing in Massachusetts and New Hampshire.
